He has launched into a speech about the resistance to the American occupation. After a while, he gets in a few more attempts at reason. Still nothing from us. He begins to look slightly annoyed. He has tried, but, this time, no one has responded. As we are being led away, a man runs over to us. The guard jerks him back. A group of them surround us. In response to the guard's attempted push, we stand up, but, there is no way to stand up against this many armed soldiers. The stranger comes to us. "I'm just wondering if you can help me," he says. "I am not trying to interfere with this. I'm just trying to find my way out of here. 6d1f23a050
